LIBRARIAN'S REPORT

We refrain this year from quoting figures, but we are very glad to state that the interest and patronage of the library this past year has been fully up to normal. More and more our reference books are used and the non-fiction books read form a fair percentage. You will see that we have been able to add over 30 volumes to our collection during the year. Many of these are first edition books. Taking out a membership in the Junior Literary League early in the year has enabled us to secure some high priced, first class books at a reasonable price for our young readers of ages 9 to 16. Many of our adult readers have enjoyed these also. We have gladly acknowledged gifts from Mrs. Robert Barrett, Miss Cora Gaines, Mr. Burton Blanchard, Mrs. J. J. Rollins and others. We now have our town reports nicely bound to date and in shape to be preserved and accessible during the coming years. Early in the year we bought a nice up to date, nonfreezing hand fire extinguisher which was, we thought, a wise precautionary measure. The routine work as well as the Branch work has gone on in the ordinary way. Our fire insurance tax coming due for a three year period somewhat depleted our treasury. Always our small income of $425 has to be stretched very thin to cover all the demands of the work. The trustees carefully consider and weigh the several expense accounts as they make out the yearly Budget before submitting it to the Board of Selectmen.

We believe the library to be a most important and educational work and we are ever thankful for the nice building and equipment that is ours to use. One great regret is that there are some families in town who do not improve the opportunity to use the library. Remember our open hours, 3 to 5:30 and 7 to 9 each Saturday. Come, look over the shelves, read the books and enjoy your library—it is your library.

Sincerely yours,

ALMA A. BROWN, Librarian.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the School Board of Cornish:

I hereby offer for your consideration my twelfth annual school report.

The schools were opened on Tuesday, the second of September, with a force of nine teachers, four of whom are without experience. Seven teachers are normal school graduates.

The others have had long and successful experience.

The name of the teacher, the fall term enrollment and the December enrollment are exhibited.

Teachers	School	Fall Term Enrollment	December Enrollment
Jeannette D. Bowlby	Flat	24	23
Charlotte Colburn	Goward	15	14
Dorothy F. Bailey	South	23	19
C. Rachel Hilliard	Brick	8	8
Ruth W. Northrop	City	30	30
Hazel E. Platt	Centre	30	28
Mary M. Wrest	Chadbourn	21	18
Eva H. Bernard	Tracy	12	12
Nina K. Anfronak	Dingleton	17	17
		<hr/>	<hr/>
		180	169

On January 16, owing to illness, Mrs. Northrop resigned her position at the City School and Miss Ellen Hadley has taken charge of the school.

As shown by the Sept. 30, 1930 school census the number of children (5-16) living in town were 189. The returns for

1929	1928	1927	1926	1925	1924	1923	1922	1921	1920
were	165	168	173	166	172	174	161	163	166	179

One hundred seventy-three children were registered in the local schools. Twelve were attending secondary schools. Five between five and eight were not in school attendance and one between fourteen and sixteen, although he had completed the elementary course of study, was not in high school attendance.

GENERAL STATISTICS

July 1, 1929 to June 30, 1930

The total school membership was 152. The average membership was 142. The per cent of attendance was 93.71. Ten pupils were neither absent nor tardy for the entire year:—Philip Wardner, Lena Cole, Rodney Palmer, Ralph Welch, Helen Flanders, Myrtle Rollins, Roland Keniston, Waneta Manley and Kathern Philbrick.

School Nurse

Mrs. Hasham was reelected as school nurse for the year 1930-1931 by the school boards of Cornish and other towns in the Charlestown, Newport and Plainfield unions. She reports the inspection, weighing and measurements of 146 Cornish Scholars. Defects found were malnutrition 15, hearing 1, nervous condition 1, cardiac disease 4, orthopedic trouble 1, teeth 78, tonsils 55. Parents of children suffering from defects should consult a physician that remedial treatment may be received. 13 children have already received corrective treatment. Five others are now under treatment. 29 unvaccinated children were found. Smallpox authorities recommend vaccination at the age of six months and again at the age of six years. A few cases of mumps and whooping cough were found. 97 home visits were made for advice and follow-up work. The largest item undertaken by her this fall was the toxin antitoxin clinics for which she arranged in October. She secured Dr. Weaver of Manchester and the nurses Mrs. Barton and Mrs. Gobie as assistants. 125 school children and 40 children of pre-school age received treatment. The expenses of the clinics were financed by the local chapter of the Red Cross.

REPAIRS

During the summer a maple floor was laid at the city school. New single desks were installed in place of the old outworn double desks. The stove was provided with a jacket which has worked satisfactorily in equalizing the heat of the room thus increasing the comfort of teacher and pupils. New blackboards were placed on the wall in place of some which had outlived their usefulness. At the Dingleton school a much needed woodshed was built and modern toilets were connected with the building. A cloak room was also provided. Some minor repairs were made at the Chadbourne school.
